

Joe Hyde
Publisher
San Angelo LIVE!

Joe Hyde served for 20 years in the U.S. Air Force as an instructor pilot and witnessed the BRAC's impact on three communities. He and his family settled in San Angelo in 2005 where he currently is the founder and publisher of the indie local news digital platform called San Angelo LIVE! He has worked in executive sales and product development roles at Verizon, The Dallas Morning News, and Salem Web Network. His digital advertising agency, Hyde Interactive, located in downtown San Angelo, developed websites all over the country. Those projects include San Diego Gas & Electric, Funimation, and Sonus Networks. Locally, his company developed SonoraBank.com, SanAngeloERA.com, and BlainesPub.com. Hyde believes very good times are ahead for San Angelo. The city is poised to grow and he desires to contribute to the Chamber's continued success and maximize the economic prosperity for all San Angelo businesses. Joe's full bio can be seen at <http://www.linkedin.com/in/joehyde>